To propose that the National Assembly for Wales:

1. Welcomes the landmark report of the Commission on Justice in Wales and the unprecedented body of evidence it generated, and thanks the members and staff of the Commission for their work;
2. Recognises the dedication and commitment to public service shown by the many people and organisations who work within the justice system, but nevertheless notes with dismay the central finding of the Commission that the people of Wales are let down by their justice system;
3. Supports the Welsh Government's intention of both taking forward those recommendations within its current competence and working with other bodies to take forward recommendations within their responsibility;
4. Notes the Commission's key finding that in order to make a lasting difference to the delivery of justice in Wales, policy must be determined and overseen in Wales; and
5. Supports the devolution of justice and policing, and full funding for each as a way of properly aligning the operation of the justice system with the wider policy objectives for Wales agreed by this Assembly.
