Dear Jayne

The Education Tribunal

At our meeting on Monday of this week, we considered our second regular monitoring report in which we consider and review key topics that are within the remit of the Legislation, Justice and Constitution Committee. You will be aware that certain matters related to justice fall within the ambit of our responsibilities and, as such, we considered an update on the Welsh Tribunals.

Annual reports for the period 2020-21 have now been published for most of the Welsh Tribunals, and we are drawing these reports to the attention of the relevant Senedd Committees.

The annual report for the Education Tribunal is not yet available. However, in lieu of that report being published, I would draw your attention to the Third Annual Report of the President of the Welsh Tribunals which comments on the workings of the Education Tribunal (previously the Special Education Needs Tribunal) over the past year.

At this week's meeting, we also took evidence from Sir Wyn Williams, the President of the Welsh Tribunals, on the subject of his Third Annual Report, and I take the opportunity to draw this session to your attention.

We anticipate that the annual report of the Education Tribunal should be made available in the coming weeks.

Yours sincerely,

Huw Irranca-Davies
