At/To Eluned Parrott:

During First Minister's Questions last week you raised the issue of inappropriate factsheets appearing on the Business Wales website. I informed the Assembly that the matter would be looked into and this is to advise you of the outcome of that investigation.

The start-up factsheets are produced by a third party and immediate action has been taken to temporarily close access to the business idea factsheets on the websites while a rapid review can take place before reopening the majority of factsheets providing potential start up ideas for entrepreneurs.

Given that factsheets are a valuable resource for Welsh businesses, plans have been put in place to enable people to request appropriate factsheets through the Business Wales Helpline or at local Business Wales hubs. Discussions have been held with the contractor with regard to the running of the factsheet service to ensure there is no re-occurrence.

In addition the Permanent Secretary has asked for urgent work to be carried out to check what safeguards are in place on any equivalent websites.

I am placing a copy of this letter in the Library.
