Dear Assembly Member

15 April 2014

During Business Questions on 25 March, a query was raised about the study into the potential economic impacts of wind farms on the Welsh tourism industry.

The study has now been completed and concluded that overall there is limited evidence of impacts on tourism for Wales. The report has been published on the Welsh Government website and can be accessed through the following link:

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Edwina Hart', written over a faint circular stamp.
