SCME308 Ymateb gan: | Response from: Rob Drinkwater

I am writing to express my absolute disgust at the Labour move to increase the number of Senedd members.

The Senedd already costs us millions of pounds extra per year as a result of being another tier of government we don't need.

The public already pay for Community/Parish councils, Local authorities, County Councils, Then the Senedd and of course the main UK government.

It's already become apparent that the devolution experiment that you've foisted upon us for the last 24 years hasn't worked, and indeed I believe the Senedd should be abolished as it simply hasn't worked and is now bankrupt.

To add another 50% to the number of members we are expected to pay for, particularly at a time when you've wasted millions on the ill thought out 20 limit across the country and almost immediately after had to announce an emergency budget to cap off the losses you have caused.

It is certainly NOT the time to increase your spending on this tier of hated government.

You have already incurred the wrath of the people, to do this will make matters worse still.

Your sincerely,

Rob Drinkwater. AAE. MIMI.

Director of companies in Wales heavily affected by your incompetence to run the country successfully.
