SCME349 Ymateb gan: | Response from: Alan d Gray

I strongly object to the senedd reform Bill. There is no need or requirement to increase the number of senedd members the astonishing cost to the people of Wales is senseless and unwanted this money is needed elsewhere i.e. health transport child poverty, I think this is a labour vanity project and is wholly unwanted in Wales as shown by the amount of people who vote in the elections.

Please register my objection to the senedd reform Bill I think it is totally wrong to increase the number of senedd members the astronomical cost to the Welsh public there is no need or requirement or appetite for this bill to be passed. The money saved should go to health service child poverty and council services and many other services which you are cutting back also where is the revenue coming from for this vanity scheme by Labour and Plaid when you are already over spent by millions in mismanagement. Please take my views into account before your final decision.

Your sincerely

Alan d Gray from Swansea.
