Julie James AM
Deputy Minister for Skills and Technology

27 November 2014

Dear Julie

Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics Skills

During the Plenary debate yesterday on the Committee's report on STEM Skills, you stated that the Welsh Government would be taking further time to consider our recommendations. In my closing remarks I suggested that it would be helpful to have an action plan which sets out in a clear and coherent way how the Welsh Government is going to take forward this important agenda.

It would be useful if the plan could capture all the specific initiatives planned, particularly the actions for the National Science Academy, together with timelines to show when the actions will be delivered.

I look forward to your response.

Yours sincerely
