

01.12.20 Statement from Velindre University NHS Trust

Good afternoon,

Today, the Nuffield Trust has published its independent report which outlines advice and recommendations on the integrated clinical model that underpins non-surgical oncology in south east Wales.

The report is available here.

The Nuffield Trust wanted to make sure that they were able to reach out to as many key stakeholders as possible, including patients, leaders within the Trust and within our partner Health Boards as part of the process.

We will continue to work in close partnership with the region to ensure the delivery of excellent cancer services for the people of south east Wales.

Please feel free to contact me should you require further information.

Yours sincerely,

Professor Donna Mead, OBE

Chair, Velindre University NHS Trust
