10	Yes
11	The College has expressed additional views on multi agency approaches and assessment in supplementary evidence provided for the consultation.
12	This is a positive assertion from the Bill, people shouldn't be prevented from accessing services.
13	Yes
14	The information collected must be made explicitly clear. We would refer to our supplementary views on diagnosis and co-morbidity.
15	It should be written in the guidance.
16	Yes
17	Not sure Autism Spectrum Disorder is a disorder that has gained national prominence through a strong and successful lobby of influential third sector organisations with high profile campaigns. Whilst it is welcomed that ASD gets the attention that it deserves, there are many conditions, illnesses, and diseases that hold a lower profile. If this Bill is passed, it could be argued that we should legislate for good practice in many other areas, such as ADHD.

18	Please see further information from our submitted evidence on our views on the impact of legislation and on services.
19	We have welcomed the spirit in which Autism is being consulted upon and have accordingly responded to the online consultation on the design of the Bill. We have deemed it appropriate to contact you separately with supplementary evidence to share our wider
