Thank you for bringing to my attention the publication of the Committee's recent report: International Agreements: Implications for Wales. I welcome the Committee's ongoing work scrutinising international agreements and considering the implications for Wales.

The Welsh Government will continue to press the UK Government to remind it of the constitutional boundaries that need to be respected, and the need for the Welsh Government to be engaged in the negotiation of these agreements in order to uphold the devolved settlement.

I am copying my response to the First Minister who was also sent a copy of this report
